Moong Dal Kachori

STUFFING

- 1/2 cup moong daal soaked
- 1 tsp coriander powder
- 1/2 tsp cumin powder
- 1 tsp red chilli powder
- 1/2 tsp coriander seeds
- 1/2 tsp Chaata Masala
- 1 tsp dried mango powder
- 1/2 tsp Garam Masala
- 1/4 tsp turmeric powder
- Fresh coriander (cilantro)
- 1/2 tsp fennel powder
- Salt to taste

DOUGH / COVER

- 2 cup 100% whole wheat pastry flour
- 1 tsp carom seeds
- Salt to taste
- 1/4 tsp baking powder

A recipe with BEANS (moong dal), HERBS & SPICES (various).

- DRY TADKA: Combine coriander seeds, coriander powder, cumin powder, red chilli powder, fennel powder, Garam Masala powder and salt (if using). Mix well. Sauté for 2 minutes. Add a little bit of water to avoid over cooking.
- DAL MIXTURE: Add soaked moong daal to Dry Tadka. Add 1/2 cup water, dry mango powder and Chaata Masala too. Mix well. Cook till moong daal is fully cooked. When dal mixture becomes dry, transfer it into another bowl and let it cool.
- DOUGH: Put whole wheat flour in a bowl. Add salt (if using), baking powder, and carom seeds. Mix well. Add sufficient water. Knead into a stiff dough. Cover the bowl with cloth and rest the dough for 20 minutes.

Place some Dal Mixture in the centre, dampen the edges, bring them together and press to seal. Press slightly and roll into small puris ensuring that the filling is evenly spread.
- AIR FRY: Place the kachoris on a baking tray. Bake them in the preheated air fryer. I used Ninja air-fryer (350 F in Air Fry mode): 7-8 mins on each side, flipping them over in between. Air frying duration will be dependent on your specific oven or air-fryer; make sure that the kachoris are cooked and golden.

Gluten-Free Bread

- 1.5 cups of millet flour: ragi (finger millet) or bajra (pearl millet) or jowar (sorghum)
- 1/2 cup besan (chickpea flour)
- 1/2 cup mix of flax or oats or chia seeds or hemp heart (any combination up to 1/2 cup) — have fun playing with the mix!
- 2 tsp baking powder
- 1/2 tsp baking soda
- 2.5 cups (593 ml) water
- 1 Tbsp ACV (Apple Cider Vinegar)
- 1/3 cup (27 g) whole psyllium husks (isabgol)
- 2 finely chopped dates

Optional — have fun playing with different combinations!

- Italian herb mix
- Sliced jalapeños
- Jeera (cumin seeds; 1 Tbsp)
- Crushed walnuts
- Spread nuts, seeds and/or minced garlic on the dough

Gluten-Free Bread is dense in texture. Takes 15 minutes for prep and then 2 hours to bake. Lasts 1 week in my fridge.

- BATTER: Mix water, vinegar and isabgol (psyllium husks). Set aside for 5 mins. Mix the rest of the ingredients (dry ingredients) in a bowl thoroughly. Then add the isabgol, water & vinegar mix.
- BAKING PAN: For oil-free preparation, use a non-stick baking pan. I prefer to use a glass baking pan with 1/4 tsp oil to coat the entire baking dish. I use a brush to ensure even coating.
- BAKING: Pour the batter into the baking pan. I score the middle and lower the height so that after baking, the top is more even in height. Set oven on bake (no convection) at 325 F. Bake for 120 mins. You may need to experiment with the settings depending on oven.
- SLICING & TOASTING: Let cool before slicing. The bread may be a little damp when we slice it, but it comes out right upon toasting. I toast each slice for about 9 minutes at 425 F.
